Announcing the Phillip C. McKenna Symposium

The Michigan Association of Planning is pleased to announce the Phillip C. McKenna Symposium has been established with a generous donation by Phillip C. McKenna and his wife, Carol McKenna, for the purpose of supporting the educational needs of professional planners and elected and appointed municipal leaders. Mr. McKenna, a life-long Michigan resident who has spent his career in planning in Michigan and surrounding states, recognizes the value and importance of ongoing education for Michigan's most important decision makers. The Phillip C. McKenna Symposium objectives, which are aligned with the ideals of the Michigan Chapter, APA, and with the AICP Code of Ethics, are to:

- Promote justice in land use and urban design policy, law, regulation, and administration by State of Michigan and its local governments.
- Counter unfair influence of money in local and state government politics in urban design, housing and home ownership, transportation, and public facilities planning and design, consistent with the American Institute of Certified Planners Code of Ethics.
- Improve conditions of employment for women in planning.
- Improve conditions of employment for marginalized groups disadvantaged by circumstance.

The Michigan Chapter, American Planning Association is humbled and deeply grateful for the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. McKenna and the contributions Mr. McKenna has made to the Michigan Chapter and the planning profession over his long and illustrious career.
